PHILOSOPHY

For more than 40 years, our practice has been based on an understanding that everything — all parts of a building, all aspects of a project, all aspects of a community and environment — are connected. In our architectural work we strive to reinforce this sense of connection at every level: by integrating every detail into the whole of the building, every building into its surroundings, and every project into its community. This philosophy infuses not only the architecture but also our design process, our interactions with people, and the way our firm is run.

DESIGN

OMR's buildings celebrate daylight: filtering in from windows and light monitors, reflecting to illuminate ceilings, and penetrating the center of buildings through atriums or glass floors. Careful planning creates a sense of order and clarity which orients you in your surroundings. Transparency and layering provide glimpses into other areas of the building and out to the landscape beyond. Meticulous detailing and use of materials articulates the relationship of each element to the whole.

COLLABORATION

Collaboration is a fundamental value of our firm. By working together with owners, clients and OPM's as a team, we can accomplish more than we could as separate individuals. Every building study, campus plan, and design is a unique response to our clients' particular project requirements and evaluation criteria as well as the special constraints of their capital and operational budgets, existing facilities, and sites.
